SEC 30-day yield ²	1.71%
Portfolio Duration	3.2 years

Investment Philosophy

The Fund seeks to invest in securities that appear comparatively undervalued. For example, the Fund would consider a security having a yield that is higher than another security of similar credit quality and duration to be comparatively undervalued. Unlike funds investing solely for income, the Fund also seeks modest capital appreciation and growth of investment income.

Buy Discipline

Adviser strongly considers the following factors:

- All securities regardless of maturity
- Issuer's credit strength
- Securities effective duration and yield

Sell Discipline

Securities are sold when:

- They no longer meet criteria for investment
- More attractive opportunities available
- Company becomes a violator of any moral screen established by the Catholic Advisory Board

² SEC 30-Day Yield is a standard yield calculation developed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) that allows for fairer comparisons of bond funds. It is based on the most recent 30-day period covered by the fund's filings with the SEC. Portfolio duration is a measure of the sensitivity of the price (the value of principal) of a fixed-income investment to a change in interest rates. Duration is expressed as a number of years. Rising interest rates mean falling bond prices, while declining interest rates mean rising bond prices.

Adviser invests only in securities that meet the Fund's investment and religious requirements. Returns may be lower or higher than if decisions were based solely on investment considerations. The method of security selection may or may not be successful and the Fund may underperform or outperform the stock market as a whole. All mutual funds are subject to market risk, including possible loss of principal. The Fund's investments in small- and mid-capitalization companies could experience greater volatility than investments in large-capitalization companies. The Fund invests primarily in fixed income securities and as a result the Fund is also subject to the following risks: interest rate risk, credit risk, credit rating risk and liquidity risk. Investment performance assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. Performance data reflects certain fee waivers and reimbursements. Without such waivers, performance would have been lower. Bloomberg Barclays Intermediate U.S. Govt./Credit Index is the benchmark index used for comparative purposes for this fund. Indexes do not incur fees and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Rising dividends may reduce the Fund's volatility during periods of market turbulence and minimize downside risk.

² Fund holdings are for illustrative purposes, subject to change and should not be considered a recommendation to buy or sell securities. Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk.

The Adviser invests only in securities that meet the Fund's investment and religious requirements. The returns may be lower or higher than if decisions were based solely on investment considerations. The method of security selection may or may not be successful and the Fund may underperform or outperform the stock market as a whole. All mutual funds are subject to market risk, including possible loss of principal. The Fund's investments in small- and mid-capitalization companies could experience greater volatility than investments in large-capitalization companies. AVEAX is classified as non-diversified and may therefore invest a greater percentage of its assets in the securities of a limited number of issuers than a fund that is diversified. At times, the Fund may overweight a position in a particular issuer or emphasize investment in a limited number of issuers, industries or sectors, which may cause its share price to be more susceptible to any economic, business, political or regulatory occurrence affecting an issuer than a fund that is more widely diversified. The issuers that the Fund may emphasize will vary from time to time.

The investment performance assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. Performance data reflects certain fee waivers and reimbursements. Without such waivers, performance would have been lower. The S&P 500[®] Index is a capitalization weighted unmanaged index of 500 widely traded stocks, created by Standard & Poor's. The index is considered to represent the performance of the stock market in general. Indexes do not incur fees and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Investment Philosophy

Adviser uses fundamental security analysis to identify and purchase shares of companies that are believed to be selling below their intrinsic value. The Adviser looks for companies whose market prices are below what a corporate or entrepreneurial buyer would be willing to pay for the entire business. They intend to hold securities for an average of 3 to 5 years under normal market conditions.

Buy Discipline

Adviser favors companies with:

- Favorable stock price in relation to free cash flow, earnings, dividends, book value and asset value
- Large-cap domestic companies with fortress-type balance sheets
- Catalysts including changes in operations, management, capital allocation, strategies or product offerings, which have a favorable impact on shareholder value

Sell Discipline

Stocks are sold when:

- Price exceeds our estimate of intrinsic value
- Company fails to achieve expected financial results
- Economic factors or competitive developments adversely impair the company's value

Mutual Fund investing involves risk, and principal loss is possible. Performance can be affected by market and investment style risk. The Fund's investments in small- and mid-capitalization companies could experience greater volatility than investments in large-capitalization companies. Price/Earnings ratio (P/E ratio) is a valuation ratio of a company's current share price compared to its per-share earnings. P/E equals a company's market value per share divided by earnings per share. Forecasted P/E is not intended to be a forecast of the fund's future performance. Annual Turnover Ratio is the percentage of the fund's assets that have changed over the course of a calendar year. Mutual funds with higher turnover ratios tend to be less tax efficient and have higher transactional costs.

The investment performance assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. The quoted performance for the Fund includes performance of RCM Partners Limited Partnership for periods prior to July 20, 1993. It should be noted that: (1) the Fund's performance includes performance for periods before the Fund's registration statement became effective; (2) the Fund was not registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and, therefore, was not subject to the investment restrictions imposed by law on registered mutual funds; and (3) if the Fund had been registered during such periods, performance may have been adversely affected. The S&P 1500® Index includes all stocks in the S&P 500®, S&P 400®, and S&P 600®. This index covers 90% of the market capitalization of U.S. stocks. Indexes do not incur fees and it is not possible to invest directly in an index. Prospective investors should read the prospectus carefully and consider the Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing.
